

UNM ADVISOR INSTITUTE

SPRING 2023

TUESDAY, MAY 23

Centennial Engineering Center
UNM-Albuquerque

Welcome to the Advisor Institute!

On behalf of the Advisor Training and Education Committee, welcome to the Spring 2023 Advisor Institute! We have a great program today, which will enable you to learn from one another, network, and develop your skills and knowledge.

Core Values and Advising Competencies

To help guide your professional development, a key of symbols for the Core Values and Advising Competencies are provided here. You will see some of these symbols next to each presentation to inform you about the values and competencies the presentation reinforces. The committee determined which Values and Competencies each session addresses. We hope you utilize this resource to guide your selection of topics at the Advisor Institute.

Core Values

Caring

Commitment

Empowerment

Inclusivity

Integrity

Professionalism

Respect

"The NACADA Statement of Core Values reflects the many cultural and educational contexts in which academic advising is practiced globally. These values apply to all who perform academic advising by any role, title or position as educators at their institutions."

"While nations, institutions, and students will offer unique circumstances, the Core Values provide guidance to academic advisors in their professional lives. Academic advisors are committed to the students they advise, their institutions, their professional practice, and the broader advising and educational community."

Advising Competencies

Meet Stephanie Hands

Director of the Office of Advising Strategies

Welcome Stephanie Hands as the new Director of the Office of Advising Strategies at UNM. She has worked in advisement since 1989 and is nationally recognized for her contributions to the National Academic Advising Association (NACADA). She earned both a Bachelor's in Psychology and a Master's in Business Administration at UNM. She is widely respected in the UNM advising community, especially for her work implementing a new advising structure for the College of Arts & Science; creating advisement workshops that connect learning objectives to registration; and designing probation courses and transition courses.

Stephanie Hands stands out as the best possible leader for advisement at UNM because of her passion for serving students, her flair for innovation, and her commitment to setting advisors up with the resources they need to collaborate on improving student experience and academic success. We are fortunate at UNM to benefit from the work of a longtime Lobo who is an exceptional advising leader.

- Dr. Pamela Cheek
Assoc. Provost for Student Success
